

I like morse code. It is part of the radio amateurs hobby and required for very low power communication.